The Prize-Money will be paid upon Demand, by Moore Furman, in Trenton.

From the WESTMINSTER JOURNAL of April 28, 1753.

From my Lodgings in Spring Gardens.

THAT Trade and Navigation are not only the chief Support, but alſo the ſole Baſis of the Proſperity and Glory of Great-Britain, is ſo evident, that, like a firſt Principle, it ſeems natural to an Engliſh Mind; it paſſes unque[ſtioned] and unimpeached [even] with the ſupremeſt Scepticiſm; and no ſuch Maſſier is to be found, [as] will not readily allow it to be the Apple of the Eye, and even every Soul of the Kingdom.

It cannot, therefore, be Matter of Wonder, to any Nation, that [ha]s ever heard of the Engliſh Name (and to what Nation under Heaven has not the Fame of England been extended?) that the Subjects of the Britiſh Empire ſhould be jealous of their commercial Rights, tenacious of their Privileges, quick and ſenſible to every Outrage and Infraction, and ready, all like one Man, to aſſert their Country's peculiar Prerogative, to rule the Sea, and aſſert their Trade over the Face of the whole Earth.

We may rather admire, that ſuch a People ſhould have ſuffered numberleſs Depredations, Tortures, and Deaths, the moſt hideous Cruelties, and barbarous Enormities, for the Courſe of ſixteen Years, before they brought their Complaints to the Repreſentative Body of ſo potent a Kingdom. The Reſolutions of the honourable Houſe of Commons on this Occaſion are too well known to be repeated. Nevertheleſs, though Spain's Infraction of Treaties, her publick Mockery of all Faith and Juſtice, her repeated Piracies, have been ſo abundantly evinced; though the Britiſh Senate had added the unſurragable Proof of her Treachery and inhumanity to the Sur[prize] and Conviction of the whole World; though that auguſt Body ſtruck with the ſad Calamities of their Fellow-ſubjects, carried their juſt Complaints to the Feet of the King; though his Majeſty, the [kind] and tender Father of his People, could not ſee, without feeling, the Miſeries of his faithful Subjects; though he reſolved to exert his Godlike Power to relieve the Injured, and to puniſh the Inſolence of the Haughty; nay, though in his great Wiſdom and Goodneſs, he long reſtrained his Vengeance, and earneſtly ſought the univerſal Bleſſings of Peace and Concord, by making lately an abſolute Peace with the Spaniſh Monarch; yet here are the Britiſh Subjects robbed and ſpoiled to this very Day, and the Maſters of the Ocean plundered upon the open Seas; while it ſeems abſolutely in vain to expect Redreſs in the Way of Peace, or Negociation. Have we not tried this tame Experiment, till Patience itſelf might be wearied? Alas! what Hopes can we have from the Conduct and Abilities of any Miniſter at the Court of Spain, whoſe Chicanery we have ſo long experienced? Colonel Stanhope, in the Year 1718, declared to the honourable Houſe of Commons, that he had preſented at leaſt Twenty-five Memorials to the Court, in relation to the Complaints of our Merchants, without Succeſs. Great-Britain has now bore enough; the Meaſure of her Sufferings is full; and it is the Hope of every good Man, that ſome adequate Expedient will be found, by the united Wiſdom of the Nation, to ſupport our ſinking Colonies, and put a Stop to theſe inſupportable Ravages of the Spaniards. Was not our Right to the Navigation of the Bay of Campeachy, upon the Foot of Treaties, cleared and aſſerted beyond all Diſpute, by the honourable Board of Trade, upon a publick Repreſentation made to his late Majeſty? If the Spaniards imperiouſly proceed in their old Depredations, ſhould they not be called to Account for three or four Hundred Ships which have been taken and plundered; for all the innocent Blood they have ſpilt; for the innumerable Barbarities they have exerciſed; and for the Expence of Life and Treaſure Britain has been put to, at Gibraltar, and in the coſtly Expedition of Admiral Hoſier? Let that Hoſt of our gallant Countrymen, who, together with their ſhorter Ships, became the Prey of Water-worms in an horrid Climate, be at length attoned. To all this we are excited by every civil Motive, that can lay hold of the Heart of Man. If we have any Duty and Reſpect for the Perſon and Majeſty of the King; any Regard for the ancient Glory of the Nation; any real Deſire for the Proſperity of the Kingdom; the Spoilers ſhall be ſpoiled, and the Ravagers of Britain ſhall feel the Force of that righteous Power which God and Nature have conferred upon her, to awe the Nations, to aſſert her own Rights, to defend the Oppreſſed, and to abaſe the Proud.

Of what Advantage to this Nation is the late Peace with Spain, when ſhe ſtill continues her Depredations! Surely, ſhe can never be ſo vain as to imagine we ſhall ſit down contented with our continual Loſſes, as if it were not in our Power to redreſs them? She has experienced the Force of our Reſentment, and we are at all Times ſo ready to chaſtiſe her Inſolence, that we want only the Sanction of Authority to ſhew we can do it, ſhould all other Methods prove ineffectual."

Briſtol, March 31, 1753.

The genuine ACCOUNT of the dreadful Maſſacre that befel Captain Codd, and his People, in the ſhip Marlborough, of this Port, after they they had paſſed the Bar of Benny, on the Coaſt of Africa, by the Rifing of the Blacks. In a Letter from John Harris (who conducted the Bonny Slaves on Shore, and thereby ſaved his own Life), to his Father, in Frazier's Court, on the Kay, Briſtol.---In which are ſuch Inſtances of Cruelty as are not to be parallell'd in the known World. With the Names of thoſe who were not murder'd, but were carried to Sea with them.

Hon. Father, Bonny, October 25, 1752.

THIS is to let you know what Misfortune I have met with.----The 11th of the preſent, we got over the Bar of Bonny, and the 14th following, being a fine Day, our Captain thought proper to waſh the Slaves, ſo ordered Tubs and Swabs to be got ready; all the People being buſy except the Centries, the Gold Coaſt Slaves roſe upon the Quarter-deck, and alarmed the whole Ship, knocked the Centries down at the Barricado, and toſſed them overboard; they then taking a Blunderbuſs up, knocked the Captain down with the Butt-end, who got up again, and made the beſt of his Way up into the Fore-top: We ſtood the Arming as well as we could, having nothing to defend ourſelves but an empty Muſket, and a few Platform Boards; we had not been long there before they killed our Boatſwain's Mate and another Man; then ſeeing it was in vain to ſtand any longer, we made to the Rigging, ſome to the Mizen-topmaſt-head, and others to the Main-top Ditto, where we ſtood and ſaw their Barbarity, who fired up at us all the Time; our Doctor and another Man got into the Punt, and were barbarouſly murdered; they ſhot the Doctor in his Side, then taking a Gun, ſtruck him over the Head with the Butt-end of it ſeveral Times; but perceiving he was not quite dead, they got the Cook's Mall, and beat his Brains out, and toſſed him and the other overboard; our Chief Mate was ſtabbed in the Body, and the Second Mate's Throat cut from Ear to Ear, and another Man killed in the Steerage: After they had murdered almoſt all the Officers, and moſt of the Men, they purſued us again, firing at us as faſt as they could load their Pieces; our Third Mate, being at the Mizen-topmaſt-head, was ſhot thro' the Thigh, who then went down and relied on their Mercy, when four of them cut him Limb from Limb. We ſeeing ſuch Cruelty uſed on our Fellow-creatures, knew no Means to ſecure ourſelves; we went down the Main-topmaſt-ſtay into the Fore-top, where we ſaw the Captain, and three more, in a miſerable Condition; then we went up into the Croſs-trees, where they fired at us as bad as before; I was ſhot in my Right Arm, and in my Belly, but I paſſed it off as light as I could; for if I had then behaved otherwiſe, they would have thrown me overboard, as they did the reſt of the Wounded. After crying and begging for our Lives, about two Hours, they, ſeeing our Number was but ſmall, bid us to come down, and they would not kill us: We ventured down on the Foretop, when the Gold Coaſt Slaves called me by my Name, Harris, Harris, to come down; I went down, and they ſhoved me along the Deck from one to another, that I thoughs I ſhould have been killed among them; then they brought me aft, and tied me Hand and Foot by the Cabbin-door; afterwards they brought the Reſt aft, and put me and George Mecargo in Irons (we were about twelve in Number, which they thought too many to be ſaved, ſo they threw four overboard alive) but we were ſoon relieved to work the Ship; we put the Ship about, and ſtood for the Land, which we diſcovered in two Days and two Nights; we ſtood off and on, to get the Cable clear: It being ſoon in the Morning, we let go our beſt Bower Anchor, and gave her a good Scope of Cable: Then the Gold Coaſt Slaves made us hoiſt our Long-boat and Yawl out, thinking they could go to the Windward Coaſt ſooner than the Ship; they loaded the Long-boat ſo deep with Goods and ſmall Slaves, as ſhe could ſwim, but the Bonny Slaves, not being willing to ſtay on board, leaped into the Boats by Force of Arms, and ſunk them both. The Gold Coaſt Slaves would not let them come on board again, which drowned upwards of 100 of them: This created ſo much Diſcontent between the Gold Coaſt and the Bonny Slaves, that they fell to fighting with great Fury all that Night; in the Morning they agreed to leave off fighting while they dreſs'd and eat ſome Victuals; which done, they fell to it as they did the Day before.----We cut the Cable, and came to an Anchor in Sight of the Ships lying off Bonny, but the Gold Coaſt Slaves not liking to ſee the Ships, threatened our Lives;----we ſatisfied them as well as we could. We had not lain here long before they ordered the Boatſwain to lower the Punt down, thinking to ſend the Bonny Slaves on Shore a Boat-load at a Time; but for fear of Delay, they thought proper to ſend a white Man in her; I was ordered in and out the Boat two different Times, when they ſet two Blacks in; but the Cook told them, it was better to ſend me in the Boat, becauſe I knew beſt what to do in her: We loaded the Boat and rowed for our Lives to the Shore, it by this Time growing dark.----I lay at a Trader's Houſe, and the next Day I went on board the Earl of Radnor, Captain Wright, belonging to Briſtol. Our Ship lay here two or three Days after I left her: The Hawk, belonging to Briſtol, who is come in here, paſſed by her, and ſaw ſhe looked like a Ship that had been plundered by Slaves, fell under her Stern, and hailed her; they told them the Captain and Mate, and ſix more, were gone aſhore, and the reſt were all ſick; they ſent their Yaul up to us to know the Truth of it, and ſoon found to the contrary; they made no ſtay, but went on board again directly, and engaged her in the Night, but all to no Purpoſe. In the Morning the Gold Coaſt Slaves cut the Cable, and I believe ſhe is either loſt or drove to Sea, with about eight white People on board: I hear ſince, that the Boatſwain leaped overboard, and ſwam to the Hawk, but I have not ſeen him.-------The Captain was alive two Days in the Fore-top in great Miſery: On the ſecond Night we made an Excuſe to ſet ſome Sails forward, when we got him down into the Fore-ſtayſail-netting, and put the Sail over him. In the Morning, they ſeeing the Skirt of his Coat, went to him, cut his Belly open, and toſſed him overboard.

 The Names of the white People left alive on board when I left the Marlborough, viz. John Lawrence, Sail-maker, Michael Bath, and George Mecargo, Seamen, William Tutton, Cooper, William Baker, Boy, John Penny, Cabbin-boy, and John Beats, Boy, of Pill.

From your affectionate Son, JOHN HARRIS.

St. John's, in Antigua, June 15.

Friday Night laſt, at twelve a Clock, a ſevere Shock of an Earthquake was felt thro' this Town, preceded by another of leſs Force.

Laſt Sunday Morning departed this Life, after a tedious Illneſs, the Hon. JOHN TOMLINSON, Eſq; Deputy Lieutenant-Governor of this Iſland; and was decently interr'd the next Day. Without enumerating the Particulars of his Character, it may be truly ſaid, that he was a very valuable Perſon, and much lamented by the Publick, but more immediately ſo by all thoſe who had the Pleaſure of his Acquaintance.

KINGSTON, in Jamaica, May 12.

We have certain Advice, via Hiſpaniola, that the King of Spain has publiſhed an Edict, commanding all the French Merchants ſettled in Old-Spain, to depart thence under Pain of a large Taxation.

Monſieur de la Motte, General and Commander in Chief of Hiſpaniola, is ſoon to leave that Iſland, another being already arrived to ſucceed him.

Monſieur Forſan, Commander of one of their Guarda Coſtas, has lately taken and brought in there, two Veſſels from North-America, he detected Trading, who were immediately condemned. Two of the three Merchants lately confined at Hiſpaniola, for countenancing the Engliſh Trade, have received Sentence to have their Goods alſo confiſcated, and they to be ſent, by the firſt Opportunity, to the Gallies. They are daily expecting a Rupture with Spain, inſomuch that moſt of the Veſſels there are daily ſailing, and others attempting to go half loaded. The French at Leoganne, are almoſt retired to Port Prince, which they have ſtrongly fortified.

May 26. Monday laſt a Negroe belonging to Mrs. Millechamp, laid a Bett with his Neighbour, that he would dive longer than he, upon which he jump'd off the Wherry Wharff, and gain'd the Bett ſo effectually, that he is not yet caſt up.

June 2. Tueſday laſt, came in from the Coaſt of Africa, commanded by George Cockburn, Eſq; his Majeſty's Ship the Glory, of Forty Guns, by whom we are informed, that when they lay at Cape-Coaſt Caſtle, two French Men of War, and a Merchantman, paſſed by there, in their Way to Anamaboa, upon which Capt. Cockburn went down after them, being joined next Day by his Majeſty's Ships the St. Alban, of Sixty, and the Aſſiſtance, of Fifty Guns, together with a Sloop; and on their Arrival at Anamaboa, found them there accordingly: Upon which Capt. Cockburn ſent to the French Commodore, demanding that their Merchantman ſhould go out of the Road, otherwiſe he would be obliged to force her out; for that ſhe had no Buſineſs there, as Anamaboa was an Engliſh Settlement: And farther, that if they wanted any Proviſions, they were heartily welcome to what that Place could afford; but that he muſt fix a Day for his Departure: All which Monſieur, after ſome Difficulty, complied with, and ſailed a Day before the Time appointed for his Departure.

By Captain Bogart, arrived at New-York, from Holland, but laſt from Plymouth, in ſix Weeks and two Days, we have the following Advices, viz.

HANOVER, April 23.

WHOLE Families are daily paſſing through this Place in their Way to Hamburgh, where they are to be embarked for New-England. The Addreſs of the Agents in repreſenting that Country as a new Canaan, has inſpired an infinite Number of Perſons, who have certain Bread in this Country, with an Inclination to go thither, to gather the heavenly Manna, without labouring for it; and they would have certainly ſet out, if proper Meaſures had not been taken to ſatisfy them, that they muſt work for their Livelihood in New-England as well as here.

LONDON,

May 1. Sunday Afternoon between Five and Six, an uncommon Scheme was put in Execution by a Gang of Pick-pockets, in St. James's Park; a Perſon very well dreſſed fixed himſelf with great Attention, as tho' he ſaw ſomething particular in the Air, this occaſioned a Number of People to enquire the Reaſon, and join in the Speculation, when he aſſerted he ſaw a very bright Star; and whilſt he was buſy in pointing out the Conſtellation to the Spectators, ſeveral of them loſt their Handkerchiefs, but the Star Gazer got clear.

May 3. Tueſday the Earl of Halifax, and the reſt of the Lords of Trade and Plantations, held a Board, when their Lordſhips took into Conſideration the State of Nova-Scotia, and we hear that ſeveral Chaplains will be ſent over to that Colony.

May 5. We hear that the Corſicans of Tetuan and Tangier, notwithſtanding the Peace concluded between the King of Great-Britain and the Emperor of Morroco, have lately inſulted the Britiſh Flag, and have even taken ſome Engliſh Ships, under the common Pretence of their Paſſports being inſufficient: The Government has ſent Orders to Mr. Pettigrew, Conſul, in that Country, to make the moſt ſerious Repreſentations againſt this Manner of acting; to require an ample Satisfaction for this Infraction of Treaties, and to declare, that if more ſtrict Attention is not paid, on the Part of Morocco, to its Engagements, and to keep the Corſairs of Tetuan and Tangier in due Bounds, the Britiſh Crown cannot help making uſe of Repriſals, and to treat them on the Foot of Enemies.

May 15. There are Letters in Town, from Peterſburgh, dated the 17th paſt, which mention a very ſharp Engagement on the Frontiers of the Ukraine, between a Body of Ruſſians and one of Tartars, in which the latter were very roughly handled, and obliged to retire towards Poland. It is imagined the Tartars, who were the Aggreſſors, acted not without the Knowledge of the Grand Signior.

On Thurſday a Proclamation iſſued, forbidding all the King's Subjects to give any Aſſiſtanee to the Inhabitants of the Iſland of Corſica, upon Pain of his Majeſty's high Diſpleaſure, and ſuffering ſuch Puniſhment as the Law directs to be inflicted on thoſe who wilfully violate his Majeſty's Treaties.

The Mermaid, Capt. Liddledale, arrived at Whitehaven, from Virginia, had a moſt diſaſtrous Paſſage, in which ſhe loſt her Commander and Mate, who, with the whole Watch, were waſhed overboard. The Sea broke in upon them with ſuch Violence, that the Boat, and every Thing on Deck, except the Maſts, were carried off.

Edinburgh, May 18. Yeſterday Afternoon were brought in here from Lochaber, Mr. Cameron of Fraſern, Brother to Lochiel; Mr. Cameron of Glenevis; and Charles Stewart, Writer; by a Party of Soldiers, and committed Priſoners to the Caſtle.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, dated, April 17.

"There does not yet ſeem the leaſt Likelihood of his Pruſſian Majeſty's deſiſting from his Claim upon the Britiſh Court. The Language of his Expoſition, the Condition in which he has put his Forces, and the Prohibition which it is ſaid he has iſſued, enjoining his Subjects not to trade with the Electorate of Hanover, ſufficiently point out his Diſpoſition with regard to the Affair. In Oppoſition to theſe Appearances, there can be but little Hopes of Succeſs from the Negotiation of Lord Hyndford, whoſe Prudence and engaging Addreſs, with all his other Qualifications, which acquired him the Eſteem of his Pruſſian Majeſty, will be of no farther Service than to procure him a favourable Reception, and by this Means may ſerve to ſoften the Vexation of being concerned in an unſucceſsful Commiſſion. Several Politicians are of Opinion, that the ſhorteſt and leaſt expenſive Method that the Court of Vienna can take to put a Stop to a Diſpute, the Conſequences of which may prove ſo fatal to their Deſigns, would be to make good to the Engliſh, the remaining Amount of the Sileſia Loan which his Pruſſian Majeſty keeps them out of: This, ſay they, would be an Act of Generoſity, which the Engliſh well deſerves of the imperial Court, on whoſe Side it would be at the ſame time, but a Piece of real Oeconomy; for what is the Sum in Queſtion, compared to Sileſia itſelf? which was but a ſmall Part of what the Election coſt, and may probably appear ſtill leſs, when compared to what the Preſent may amount to, if the Determination is to carry it at any Rate."

BOSTON, July 2.

We hear from North-Kingſton, in the Colony of Rhode-Iſland, that on the 14th of laſt Month, a Bull and two Cows were killed by Lightning in that Town, and tho' a Woman was milking one of the Cows at the ſame Inſtant, yet ſhe received little or no Hurt.

We have Advice from Halifax, of the Arrival of the Torrington Man of War, and the Vulture and Waſp Sloops of War from England; as alſo a Snow and Brig from London, and a Brig from Newcaſtle.

We are likewiſe inform'd, that about 1500 People, chiefly Germans, had gone from Halifax, and have made a Settlement at a Place about 20 Leagues from thence, called Mallagaſh, now named Lunenburg; and had built a Block-houſe, and almoſt piqueted round the Town when the Veſſels came away.

Halifax, in Nova-Scotia, June 23.

Thurſday laſt the Captains Rogers and Cobb, arrived here from Mallagaſh, where they had been with their ſecond Freight of Germans, who inform us, that the Settlement goes on to Admiration, ſeveral Houſes, beſides the two Block-houſes, are already raiſed and almoſt covered, and that the Place ſeems to look quite alive.

NEW-YORK, July 9.

Capt. Bogart acquaints us, that on the Banks of Newfoundland, the 16th of June laſt, he ſpoke with Capt. Badger, from Londonderry bound to Philadelphia; all well.

Letters from South-Carolina, aſſure us, that they have a Proſpect of having the largeſt Crop of Rice there this Seaſon, ever known.

Capt. Lawrence in 13 Days from St. Euſtatia, informs us, that the Captains Roney, and Rawles, in two Snows belonging to Philadelphia, arrived there from Surrinam, a few Days before he ſailed.

A Man croſſing our Bay on Tueſday laſt, with the Boom of his Boat was knock'd overboard, and drowned.

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.

Saturday laſt a Man was robb'd of his Pocket-book in the Market, in which were ſeveral Fifteen Shilling Bills; but he ſuſpecting the Fellow that had done it (obſerving that he was followed by him from Stall to Stall for ſome Time before) ſoon after met with, took up, and ſearch'd him, but could not find his Book; however, ſeeing one of his Hands cloſe ſhut, he open'd it, and found the Bills; upon which he carried him before a Magiſtrate, who ſent him to Jail.

On Sunday, early in the Morning, a Dwelling-houſe and Kitchen, on the weſtern Side of Second-ſtreet, were ſtruck by Lightning, and conſiderably damaged; but being untenanted, no Perſon was hurt. The great Fondneſs that the Matter of Lightning has for Metals, was, perhaps, never more conſpicuous: In its Paſſage downwards, it went conſiderably out of its neareſt Way to the Earth, for the ſake of the Leads of the Windows, and Iron Hooks, Staples, &c. in the Window Frames; which were all, in many Places, much melted and ſtain'd thereby: Several Panes of Glaſs were alſo a little melted, and colour'd, in a beautiful Manner, round the Edges, near where the Leads ſurrounded them and thoſe Parts of the Leads being thin, and not ſufficient to conduct the whole of the Flaſh, were melted; but the thick Parts of the Leads (which ſeparate the Panes from each other) conducted it freely, and without being the leaſt damag'd.

On Tueſday Evening laſt a Fellow got into a Gentleman's Houſe in Front-Street, and had taken down a Looking-Glaſs, and wrapp'd it carefully up in a Blanket; and tied up ſeveral Bundles of Bedclothes, and other Furniture, as much as ſeveral Hands could have carried off at one Time; when, unluckily for him, the Maid happened to be ſent for ſomething into the Room where he was at Work, which obliged him to make the beſt of his Way out of a Window the Back-way, without his intended Booty. This is probably the Fellow (or another of the Gang) that was lately found under another Gentleman's Bed, in Market-ſtreet, about Twelve a Clock at Night.

The ſame Day a labouring Man, being at work in a Houſe in Town, got to a Bottle of Rum, of which he drank ſo freely, that he died ſoon after.
